Winter 2009

Lake George Winery's shale based soils consist of alluvial outwash from the nearby Cullarin Range, and loose gravel embankments created over millennia by the wave action of Lake George.

Established in 1971, the vineyard has an optimal easterly aspect, and late afternoon sea breezes and moderate heat during the growing season.

Lake George Winery's wines are made with minimal interference, allowing full expression of the character of the vineyard.

Located 30 minutes from Canberra and 2½ hours from Sydney, Lake George Winery provides an idyllic retreat to indulge in the cool-climate air and fine wine and food.
